September's Artist: Steven Kennedy

Gallery Walls/Lower Level/Lower Level Case

Despite living with the limitations of his cerebral palsy, Steven Kennedy has found success with art. Since 2006, Steve has been a participant with Riverside Arts and has mastered his creative style using Sennelier oil sticks. He creates art through color blending, layering, and carving. Steve says about his art: "I dream about my art...art makes me feel good. It is fun and exciting. It is my passion in life and helps me express my feelings".

Our thanks to the Agawam Center Library Association, who generously provided the funding for the prizes.

Thank you ALL for your participation!

Have You Tried Our New eBook Services ?

Our eBook users can now access more eContent through the Commonwealth eBook Collections

(CEC). Agawam residents now have access to an expanded eBook collection that includes popular fiction, non-fiction, academic research and historical documents. Visit eBooks.masslibrarysystem.org to access the CEC. Hands-on help is available at the library on Wednesdays from 9 a.m.-12 p.m. Our volunteer Tony is happy to help!

Kindergarten Social

Join us at the library for a Kindergarten Social on September 3rd. Agawam and Feeding Hills students who are entering Kindergarten in September can enjoy a fun story time and meet some new friends!

Clifford Granger & Robinson Park Schools –
Thursday, September 3 at 10:00 a.m. or 6:00 p.m.

James Clark & Benjamin Phelps Schools –
Thursday, September 3 at 11:00 a.m. or 7:00 p.m.

This program is presented in partnership with Agawam Family & Community Program.

Banned Books Week!

Celebrating the Freedom To Read!

September 27-October 3

According to the American Library Association, over 11,000 books have been challenged since 1982, when Banned Books Week was established. During this time, we recognize and celebrate our Freedom To Read. For more information and lists of banned and challenged books, please visit www.bannedbooksweek.org.

ESOL Classes Begin in September

Mondays 6:00 p.m. – 7:30 p.m.

The free classes are sponsored by the Friends of the Agawam Library, and they are open to all adult learners who are looking to improve their English in the areas of listening, speaking, reading and writing. Classes begin September 14th and run through the school year.

To register or for more information, please contact Library Director, Judy Clini (413) 789-1550 x8855 or jclini@agawamlibrary.org
